

NEW CITY MANAGER FOR ROSEMEAD

Like the challenges presented by local government," says Andy Lazzaretto, "I appreciate the opportunity of serving people at the local level, where one's efforts are most direct and beneficial."

As Rosemead's new City manager, Lazzaretto brings a wealth of experience, having served as full-time city manager in Walnut, Stanton, Alhambra and Burbank. As head of his consulting firm, A.C. Lazzaretto and Associates, he has served as a consultant to a wide variety of cities, counties and public agencies in southern California since 1985, including a six-month stint as economic and redevelopment consultant to the City of Rosemead.

At the top of Lazzaretto's list of priorities is overseeing needed updates to the city's General Plan, the document that spells out the kind of community in which Rosemead's citizens wish to live. It includes economic and environmental guidelines, and must evolve as the community does.

"The city council is eager to move the community forward with quality residential and commercial development," says Lazzaretto. "People deserve to live in neighborhoods not threatened by oversized houses, or obtrusive fencing and setbacks. Without clear guidelines, the process for approving new projects is neither fair nor efficient. And an approved General Plan helps increase property values in the city."

City staff has been working on General Plan updates for the past few years, and is on schedule to complete a five-year capitol improvement strategy for revitalization of major thoroughfares, parks, the Civic Center and retail centers throughout Rosemead.

Here in Rosemead, the goal is "to provide leadership for planned beneficial growth," says Lazzaretto. "I have spent my entire career assisting cities and counties throughout southern California, and I look forward to the challenge of serving the people of Rosemead."

Oliver Chi Joins Rosemead Family

Oliver's duties will include special projects for the City Council and the City Manager's office. He sees his role as assisting to build a foundation to move the city in a direction which will ultimately allow the City to better serve the residents of Rosemead. He is working on a "people management system," formalizing administrative policies, developing a management system for personnel relations and better aligning all systems so they serve the citizens of Rosemead more effectively.

Update on Garvey Avenue Bridge over Rio Hondo Channel

Final Plans and specifications for the reconstruction of Garvey Avenue Bridge will be presented to the City Council for their review, approval and authorization to advertise for bids early this summer, with an award of a contract this coming fall.

To maintain full lane capacity and avoid major traffic congestion during the Thanksgiving through January 1st holiday season the construction will not begin until after January, 2007, however, major bridge construction activity will not begin in earnest until the end of the storm season on April 15, 2007.

Recycling Goes Automated

Beginning May 1 Rosemead residents began using the new 64-gallon recycling containers from Consolidated Waste Management for their automated recycling program. These new blue recycling containers are to be used for plastics, paper and aluminum. Residents are reminded that only clean recyclables are to be placed in these new containers and no other form of household waste should be disposed of in these bins. Drivers may refuse to collect any containers that are contaminated with household waste. An additional fee will be charged if the driver has to return to a residence to collect the "clean" waste.

Remembrance Honors Soldiers

Memorial Day was observed on Monday, May 29, with a wreath-laying ceremony at Rosemead's Vietnam Veterans Memorial located in City Hall Plaza at 8838 E. Valley Blvd. The annual ceremony is in remembrance of all valiant soldiers who fought and died in service to our Nation and the cause of freedom worldwide.

A Local Hero

Marine Corporal Carlos Arellano had survived two tours of duty in Iraq with only slight wounds. But on January 20, during his third tour of duty, he was killed when a suicide bomber set off a blast in the city of Haglaniyah, Iraq.

Born in Mexico, Arellano grew up in Rosemead and attended Emerson Elementary and Garvey Middle schools along with brothers Marco, Gustavo and Robert, also Marines. They describe him as fearless, athletic and outgoing, one who enjoyed meeting the local people in Iraq. His favorite times were when children would come wave at him, according to his brother.

Scheduled for discharge in June, 27-year-old Arellano planned to study criminal justice in college, and hoped to train for work as a SWAT officer in the Los Angeles Police Department. He is survived by his brothers, his father Robert Arellano Sr., and mother Emelia Arellano.

Graffiti Costs to Residents Rising

It's difficult to believe, but the bill was more than $750,000 to remove and repair the surfaces of property damaged by graffiti in the City of Rosemead over the last three years.

The City calls upon everyone to get involved to end this vandalism and to suggest projects on which they would prefer to spend the money.

With anywhere from 600–800 reported cases of graffiti vandalism in the City of Rosemead each month, the three City employees whose job it is to clean up the graffiti put in a combined 140 hours per week in the effort. The removal of graffiti in residential areas is a priority. Depending upon the workload, it takes 24–48 hours to respond once the graffiti has been reported. The City of Rosemead continues to offer a $1500 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of graffiti vandals.

Keeping Rosemead Citizens Safe

All over the country, police departments are struggling to find new officers. But here in Rosemead, the Sheriff's Department prides itself on the stability of their force and the quality of their service to the community.

The City's contract with the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department is reviewed regularly. The department looks at the city's population, the number of calls for service, response times and many other factors to determine the number of patrol officers, detectives, community liaison and others needed to keep the city safe.

After 29 years in Rosemead, Lt. Wayne Wallace says the relationship between the community and the Sheriff's Department "is the best I've seen anywhere." A strong neighborhood watch program, a youth team that has won state recognition, and active involvement in the City's schools helps keep crime under control. Three of Rosemead's officers have received Golden Apple Awards for their involvement in school safety programs.

According to Lt. Wallace, Rosemead has one of the county's most pro-active traffic enforcement policies. The freeway brings a high volume of "transient" traffic—traffic from outside the city—and traffic officers work aggressively to keep the city's streets safe.

Pool Facility Renovations Completed

The buildings at both Rosemead and Garvey pools have undergone a few recent renovations and ADA (Americans With Disabilities Act) upgrades. Both facilities now boast handicapped accessible restrooms and heated showers, new flooring and fresh paint jobs. New lighting has also been installed at the Garvey facility. Both pools will be opened for the summer season on June 24th.
